

Good day Valued Supplier

Learn about Public Procurement Law and how it affects you!

Government procurement accounts for a substantial part of the global economy and is therefore closely regulated in law to prevent fraud, waste, corruption, or local protectionism. Understanding the laws under which Government procurement is to take place is crucial to every business wishing to do business with the State as it will not only enable you to ensure that your bids are not disqualified due to non-compliance on your part but will also alert you to possible threats to your business due to non-compliance by Government with such laws.

Join us for a bite sized webinar, in which we will provide you with some insights as to recent changes in applicable law.

Agenda topics:

- Update on public procurement legislation
- 2017 Regulations to the PPPFA
- 2022 Regulations to the PPPFA
- General approach of courts to non-compliance with law with reference to applicable case law
- Avenues available to bidders/departments to challenge awards and risk for small businesses associated therewith
- Mitigation actions available
- Questions/answers

When:

15 August 2024
10h00 to 11h00

Where:

Virtual link to be shared soon

A large, circular button with a pink-to-purple gradient background and a subtle shadow. The text "Register Now" is centered in a white, sans-serif font.

Register
Now